2. What Cookies Are

Cookies are small text files placed on your device when you visit a website. They are used to ensure websites function correctly, operate securely, and provide information to website operators about how their websites are used.

3. How We Use Cookies

Stockdale Street uses cookies in a limited and proportionate manner consistent with the nature of our business and regulatory obligations. We do not use cookies for advertising, marketing, behavioural profiling, or investor targeting.

4. Categories of Cookies Used

Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential for the secure and proper operation of the website. They enable core functionality such as page navigation and protection against misuse. These cookies do not require consent.

5. Third Party Services

We may use reputable third-party service providers to support website functionality or performance analysis. Any such providers are required to process information in accordance with applicable data protection laws and under contractual obligations.

6. Legal Basis

Strictly necessary cookies are used based on our legitimate interest in operating a secure and functional website. Where consent is required for other cookies, we rely on user consent in accordance with UK GDPR and related guidance.

7. Managing Cookies

Users can control or disable cookies through their browser settings. Please note that disabling cookies may affect the availability or functionality of certain parts of the website.

8. Policy Updates

This Cookie Policy may be updated periodically to reflect changes in law, regulation, or website functionality. Any updates will be published on the website.
